BILLY DRUMMOND & Freedom of Ideas: Valse Sinistre: For his first set as a leader in nearly 30 years, drummer Drummond brings the daddio and brings it hard as he pays notice to the people and places that have rubbed his shoulders over that time. Still thinking like an album artist, he's making music here that's made to last and not be deleted when you update your play list. Smart jazz from a smart jazzbo that all adds up well. (Cellar 11022)
